

Dear Supporter,

Let's put the fun into Funky Hair Funday

Thank you for your interest in holding a Funky Hair Funday! Inside this fundraising pack you'll find lots of fun ways to hold your own Funky Hair Funday to support The Little Princess Trust's work for children and young people with cancer.

What is a Funky Hair Funday?

It is simply a way to style your hair - or head - in any way you like to raise money for The Little Princess Trust. Boost the fun by getting your work colleagues, classmates or friends and family involved.

A fun event where absolutely anyone can take part!

Many people choose to support The Little Princess Trust by donating their hair so we can make wigs for young people. But we know not everyone is able to do this - and we are aware of lots of people who would still love to help us in other ways.

That's why we created Funky Hair Funday as it is a day open to anyone - no matter how long or short their hair - to give Hair and Hope to children with cancer.

Inside this pack you will find lots of ways to have bags of fun by hosting your own Funky Hair Funday to fundraise for The Little Princess Trust.

Thank you so much for your support!

These wigs are not to hide hair loss, but to crown courage and bravery

Each year The Little Princess Trust provides more than 2,000 real hair wigs, free of charge, to children and young people who have lost their own hair due to cancer treatment and other conditions.

Many of our wig recipients tell us just what a difference our wigs – and your support – can make.

Laura

“My biggest fear when I found out about having cancer was losing my hair. Having this wig gave me my confidence back and made me feel like me again.”

Laura

Olivia

“Olivia’s wig looked exactly like her hair and we cannot put into words how much it meant to her.”

Maria, Olivia’s mum

Callum

“Losing your hair signals that everything in your life has changed. So getting a wig fitted and styled helps to bring back some sort of normality and boost your self-esteem.”

Callum
